Welcome to the SURREY HILLS

Dear Reader,

Welcome to the third edition of the Guide to the Surrey Hills, a testament to the growth and positive impact we continue to make on the economy and community of the Surrey Hills National Landscape. As we celebrate our third year, we proudly showcase a diverse array of businesses, big and small, all embodying the essence of the Surrey Hills.

After the warm reception of our previous editions, it's clear that the Surrey Hills National Landscape is not only cherished for its stunning landscapes but is also home to a growing community of exceptional independent businesses. This guide introduces you to enterprises that maintain high standards, operate sustainably, and place a strong emphasis on local providence.

From delightful regional food and drink producers to the craftsmanship of local artisans, and from inviting places to stay to a variety of local experiences, the Surrey Hills has something for everyone. Alongside features on Surrey events, this guide provides you with insights to discover new regional businesses, support local endeavours, and explore more of our remarkable region.

Thank you for joining us on this journey in the Surrey Hills.

Working in harmony with nature

We are BEE FRIENDS, an award-winning local bee farming business established in 2007 near Guildford. We manage over 220 colonies of honeybees on our farm and throughout Surrey, Berkshire and Hampshire.

As well as offering raw, natural honey and delicious honey mead we use honey and beeswax in a range of hand-crafted products.

We produce pure food wraps, a range of polishes and conditioners and, of course, beeswax candles.

We are very proud of our unique range of carefully handmade, natural skincare products.

We also offer educational tours around our bee farm so that we can share our passion for these fascinating insects and their importance to the ecosystem.

Explore seven magnificently diverse and abundant habitats in the Surrey Hills

Hedgerow: Linking areas of habitat across farmland and abundant in wildlife, including the Hazel Dormouse, Barn Owls and Brown Hairstreak butterflies.

Pasture: The management of pasture has a significant bearing on the outcomes of many different species including the Skylark, Small Copper butterflies and Bumblebees.

Arable: Field edges and strips adjacent to hedgerows and woodland are home to Yellow Hammers, Grey Partridge and Harvest Mice.

Woodland and Scrub: Complex habitats give shelter and sustenance to bats, butterflies and birds. Look for a Purple Emperor or listen out for a Nightingale's song.

Heathland: A range of rare and endangered species make their home amongst the heath, including the North Dartford Warblers, the Nightjar and the Grayling butterfly.

Water: Rivers, streams, lakes, ponds, marsh and bogs – diverse habitats for an array of species including the Great Crested Newt, Water Voles and Dragonflies.

Chalk Grassland: A North Downs habitat of international importance whose features include plant species such as the Bee Orchid, Salad Burnet and the Horseshoe Vetch.

HALL HUNTER PARTNERSHIP

Located in the picturesque British countryside, Hall Hunter is a long-established grower of premium berries, operating four farms across the Berkshire and Surrey area. Established in 1966, the Hall family began selling vegetables for London markets from Heathlands Farm in Wokingham. Today, the business grows some of the finest strawberries, raspberries, blueberries and blackberries, combining both passion and expertise in farming to become one of the UK's leading berry growers under Managing Partner Harry Hall.

Humble Berries, Big Ambitions

At Hall Hunter, we aim to grow the freshest and tastiest berries but to do so we understand that it takes a team of dedicated, passionate and supported people. That's why we strive to embody the Hall Hunter Way, which is, to continually improve in our day-to-day ambitions, to be resourceful, to be authentic in our endeavors, to speak from the heart about what we do and to move forward as a collective. It's in this way that we can remain excited and united about our future as a business.

Our Pledge to the Planet

As part of our commitment to our environment and planet, we work hard to ensure that our environmental footprint is kept to a minimum in order to protect future generations. To do this, we have introduced a number of measures that aim to positively impact our climate and ecosystems whilst nurturing the growth of the UK's natural fauna and flora. For example, carefully planning our cropping system to ensure it's surrounded by hedges, trees and beetle banks to support biodiversity and surrounding habitats. Similarly, we encourage bees and other insects to pollinate through the plantation of wild flowers. We also believe in the long-term benefits of solar energy and have since placed 500KW of roof top solar systems across our Godalming and Wokingham sites. Utilizing green renewable sources to power our packhouses is something we continually strive for and wish to continue to develop in the future.

Our Communities

At Hall Hunter we believe in camaraderie and mutual support which means helping out our local communities as best we can. We think it is important for people and children to know where their food comes from, which is why we are passionate about offering educational opportunities such as school visits and Open Farm Sunday. This year we hosted 19 school visits across three of our farms, educating young people on British soft fruit farming and the whole growing process. Similarly, our Open Farm Sunday provides a unique opportunity for the public to get up close and personal to farming and understand its true importance.

Are you a Berry Believer?

We are proud to be part of Surrey Hills Enterprises, championing the purchase of local products and supporting local communities and services. For this reason we welcome the opportunity to collaborate with surrounding businesses, be it big or small. If you are interested in working together and incorporating some healthy British berries into the mix, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

CHALK HILLS BAKERY

The secret to a good loaf is time and a little bit of patience. These talented bakers use long-fermenting traditional methods, they knead each loaf by hand and allow time for them to proof slowly. And their ingredients are as simple and as good as can be. For their sourdough loaves that means just organic flour, water, salt and our own sourdough starter.

CORPORATE MEMBER

SQUIRES

GARDEN CENTRES

MODERN GARDEN CENTRES BUILD ON A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Squire's Garden Centres is an independent family-owned business, established in 1936, with sixteen garden centres across the South East, eleven of which are located in the Surrey Hills. Chairman Sarah Squire tells us a bit about the changes in gardening and garden centres.

HOW DID SQUIRE'S COME ABOUT?

My grandfather D.J. Squire (1905 – 2003) started our business. He was head gardener at the Police orphanage in Twickenham. When the orphanage closed in the mid-1930s he was made redundant. Unable to find alternative employment and with a young family to support he set up his own nursery and landscape gardening business.

My father Colin Squire developed the company into one of the first garden centre businesses in the UK when he opened Squire's in Twickenham in 1964.

HOW HAVE GARDEN CENTRES CHANGED?

The early garden centres were a far cry from today's businesses. They usually comprised converted greenhouses that were nowhere near the shopping environment customers expect today. From the 1980's, garden furniture and BBQs started to take off, and then cafes became an intrinsic part of the experience.

PROUD TO BE LOCAL

We aim to provide our local communities with superb quality plants and gardening products, as well as attractive ranges of garden furniture, BBQs and gifts. All our centres have a Café Bar which is a great place to meet friends and family.

HAVE PLANT TRENDS CHANGED OVER THE YEARS?

Plant trends come and go but many plants are as popular now as they have always been and for good reason – because they do well in the garden and are reliable. Roses, Clematis and Lavenders are perennially popular, and there's increased interest in 'grow your own' fruit and veg and large statement plants.

Planting for wildlife, quite rightly, keeps on growing in popularity. Our gardens have become such an important resource for native wildlife with the urbanisation of the last hundred years or more.

PROUD TO BE BRITISH

We are proud that 85% of our plants are sourced from UK nurseries, many very locally indeed - this supports local producers and means that customers can choose from the freshest possible stock, which hasn't travelled far from nursery to garden centre.

WHY GARDENING IS GREAT

Gardening gets you out in the fresh air, is good exercise, connects you with nature and gives you space to think and clear your mind. It is so therapeutic to nurture plants and see them grow. I defy anyone not to feel relaxed and let the cares of the day slide away in the garden.

With people now more aware of the environment around them, it is the perfect opportunity to make your garden, large or small, look its best. But it is not just about looks. It is a fact that gardening makes many people feel happier, healthier and more in tune with nature.

Surrey Hills Spring Fair

Taking place at the fascinating Rural Life Living Museum in Tilford, this weekend festival celebrates the start of spring and the heritage, culture and beauty of the Surrey Hills. Bringing together the region's best food, drink, art and crafts, this family-friendly event features hands-on activities and traditional country crafts alongside live music from Surrey singer-songwriters, spring seed planting, storytelling from Surrey children's authors, local food and drink, and stalls from Surrey Hills' artisans. Visit the museum's historic buildings, ride on the steam train and watch charcoal making and wood turning amongst many other exciting activities and demonstrations.

Surrey Hills Artisan Markets

The Surrey Hills is home to a wonderful selection of Artisan makers and producers. One of the easiest ways to meet them and to find out more about the wonderful food, drink, arts and crafts, is to come along to one of the many monthly artisan markets run across the Surrey Hills.

Surrey Hills Wood Fair

Those looking to learn more about traditional wood crafts and enjoy an immersive day out in the woods, should pay a visit to the Surrey Hills Wood Fair. Taking place in a Surrey woodland, the weekend event is a fun and educational day out for all the family, full of rural charm and embracing the beauty of wood in England's most wooded county. With woodland walks, tree planting and live music, the event will cover a whole host of countryside pursuits, including tree climbing, hedge making, axe throwing and bark painting. See woodland demonstrations from master craftspeople, smell the wood smoke, buy handmade products to take home and get involved in a host of wood-related games and activities under the canopy of the copse.
